

el Capitan Canyon

Nature Lodging on the California Coast

Friday, October 18, 2019

Dear Guest;

We are reaching out to our guests to provide an update following the fire event near El Capitan Canyon yesterday afternoon. We are grateful to report that both our Ocean Mesa Campground and the El Capitan Canyon resort are safe and secure. Our entire staff is on property this morning and ready to receive guests, but we are awaiting final clearance from the Fire Department to reopen.

While the sky is blue, the air is clear and the Canyon no longer appears to be in any danger – the Office of Emergency Services wants to be absolutely certain that we are safe to repopulate the property. The Incident Commander is indicating that they will make another assessment later this afternoon and advise us by 6:00 PM as to whether we can reopen later today or tomorrow.

If you have a reservation for this evening, Friday, October 18, 2019, please contact us so we can assist you in either making arrangements to arrive later today, move your arrival date to tomorrow or reschedule your visit with us for a future date.

If your arrival date is tomorrow, Saturday, October 19, 2019, we expect to be open and look forward to welcoming you.

Again, our facilities are completely safe and secure. We expect to be fully open again later this evening and we are just awaiting final word from the Fire Department to repopulate our properties and welcome guests back to El Capitan Canyon and the Ocean Mesa property.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

With best regards,

El Capitan Canyon Resort and Ocean Mesa Campground
